SITH REGIMENT MAY PASS THROUGH MAYSVILLE

The Chamber of Commerce received a communication yesterday afternoon from the Louisville Auto Club stating that within a short time the 84th Division is to be transferred from Camp Taylor to Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, and there will be many officers and men make the trip by motor cars.

They ask information as to conditions of roads and best possible routes from Maysville to Chillicothe and it is likely that they will pass through this city en route to Chillicothe.

SPECIAL PRAYER MEETING

Special conference in the Christian Church tonight from 7:30 to 8:30. All those interested in the Bible School or the teaching service of the church should be present. The officers and teachers and those from Mr. Kackley's and Mr. Stahl's classes and other members are expected to be in this meeting.

IT'S BANKER INSTEAD OF BUDDY
Mr. Andrew M. January has been chosen Teller at the State National Bank, to take the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. J. H. Clark, Jr.

Had the directors of this popular bank searched the country over there could not have been found a man that was more fitted for this responsible position. "Buddy" is one of the most popular young men in this section, and a more deserving person does not exist. For a number of years Mr.

January has been associated with the big tobacco interests here, throwing him in touch with men of affairs, and giving him an insight in big business that will stand him well in hand at present. He is now City Treasurer and is fully qualified to fill the position he has been selected to.

Here's to you, Banker January in June, and may this be only a stepping stone to bigger things you so richly deserve.

WILL BE CARDED

Index of All Able-Bodied Men of Maysville to Be Kept by Local Authorities.

On June 20th the gravel will fall and all who do not have employment keeping them busy for at least thirty-six hours a week the local court will find such employment for them, as loafing will not be tolerated in Maysville.

The new State anti-loafing law provides that every able bodied man between the ages of 16 and 60 must do a certain amount of work six days in every week. The penalty for failure to keep that law is (a fine of) $100 and (a jail sentence) of fifty days.

A census of all male persons in the city and county between the ages of 16 and 60 is being taken. A card index system will be made from this and the names of all persons catalogued therein. On June 19 the list will be carefully gone over as the character of every one's occupation is ascertained he will be checked off the list. And the loafers will be rounded up by the officials.

Where there is a refusal on the part of a loafer to go to work instead of the $100 fine and its accompanying fifty days jail sentence, judgment will probably be suspended and the loafer made to work in accordance with the designs of the law. A strict account of this action will be kept regularly.

Miss Annabell Hall of East Second street is visiting in Millersburg this week.

RAZED CHICKENS

In Attempt to Raise Potatoes an East End Lady Made a Big Demonstration

It isn't every one that can be a successful farmer and poultry raiser at the same time.

And what will kill potato bugs, will also kill chickens, as a lady of the Sixth Ward knows too well now.

The lady in question had a splendid war garden, her potato crop being especially a good one, and the potato bugs weren't long in finding that out, either.

One morning she went out to view her luxuriant potato patch and it was literally covered with bugs, and she determined to get rid of them before they got rid of her potato crop, so she procured the necessary poison and sprayed her vines well.

The next day, finding the ground strewn with the remains of the dead Huns, she thought struck her that the chickens would like to eat them, and she turned in her choice hens, and they got busy on the poisoned bugs, and it wasn't long until the poisoned bugs got busy, with the result that thirty of the egg-producers went the way of the potato bugs.

Too bad that old Mr. Experience is such an expensive teacher, but he is, and a good one, too.

Mrs. Carrie Russell and daughter, Miss Alexine, returned home last night after spending a few weeks at Martinsville, Ind.

SUBMARINE FLEET STILL NEAR U. S. COAST LINE

TRANS-ATLANTIC SHIP IS SAVED FROM SINKING BY AN AMERICAN DESTROYER

Enemy Submarines Continue Havoc in North Atlantic Coast Waters—U-Boats Still Lark Near American Shores—Reported Submarine Fleet Will Remain Until August.

Washington, June 4—Enemy submarines still were operating off the American coast today. A French tank steamer, the Radioline, first Trans-Atlantic steamer to be attacked by the raiders, was saved from destruction at 9:30 o'clock this morning, by an American destroyer, 65 miles off the Maryland coast.

This same destroyer found the coasting schooner Edward R. Baird, Jr., sinking after having been bombed in the same vicinity, making seven schooners and four steamers to have been sunk by the raiders.

Announcement by the Navy Department of these facts late tonight disclosed that the raid in American waters had not ended with yesterday's toll of destruction, upsetting the theory that the raiders probably were spending homeward. Coast patrol vessels had not acted on the theory. They now are closing in from all directions on the scene of the raiders' last exploit, scouring the sea for further trace of enemy U-boats as they come.

U-Boat Fleet May Remain Till August

New York, June 4—A member of the crew of the U-151, the German submarine which destroyed the schooner Edna, told Enoch Roker, one of the Edna's crew, Roker said here today, that the U-boat fleet plans to remain in American waters until August. Roker, for eight days a prisoner on the submarine, was rescued after he and other prisoners had been placed in the open boats of another sunken ship and arrived here last night.

"The storekeeper told me that since they had left Kiel two months ago after a big celebration before the submarine fleet left," Roker said today, "they were provisioned for a six months' cruise and he said they intended to stay on the western Atlantic coast until August at least. He didn't tell me how many submarines there were in the fleet, as the officers on board kept vigilant eyes and ears."

Toll of Submarine Raiders Reaches 58 Dead and Missing

New York, June 4—The toll of dead and missing from the raid of German submarines against shipping off the American coast apparently stood tonight at 58, all from the steamship Carolina, of the New York and Porto Rico line. Sixteen of this number are known to have perished when one of the ship's boats capsized in a storm Sunday night after the vessel had been sunk. The fate of the others is not known but it is hoped they have been picked up by a passing vessel and will yet reach shore safely.

Officials of the company have placed the number of passengers aboard the Carolina when she was attacked 125 miles off Sandy Hook at 220 and the crew at 130 making 350 in all.

BERLIN ADMITS DRIVE HALTED

Washington Convinced General Foch Has Fought Enemy to Standstill on West Front—German Offensive Has Deteriorated Into Isolated Attacks on Wide Area.

Washington, June 4—Virtual admission that the third German drive in the west has been brought to a halt was seen here in tonight's official statement from Berlin. The brief announcement, without claim of advances, served to convince officers here that for the present at least, General Foch has fought the enemy to a standstill without the loss of any point of strategic value and without serious inroads of his reserves.

American troops aided in the fighting. Presumably they are part of General Pershing's main units, originally posted farther to the north. It may be, however, that they are a part of the reinforcements that have been rushed over since the German high command determined to force the war to a conclusion in the hope that a decisive victory could be won before the American army arrived in France.

Observers here are now anticipating a more or less quiet spell along the Marne and the sector from Chateau Thierry to Soissons as the German rush again appears to have spent itself short of any definite goal that can be divined. If it proves to be a fact that the invaders are unable to dislodge the French from Villers Cotterets wood, the great natural barrier that has aided in stemming the drive to the west, it is thought that General Foch may see sufficient promise of successes to warrant counter strokes along this line.

From drives on wide fronts German offensive in France has deteriorated into isolated attacks along the area between Soissons and Chateau Thierry and eastward on the Marne in the general direction of Rheims.

Near the Neuilly wood which lies northwest of Chateau Thierry and at the point where the drive has brought the enemy nearest Paris, the Americans have beaten off a strong attack, and on the Marne at Jaulgonne, some six miles northeast of Chateau Thierry, fighting shoulder to shoulder with the French, they have aided in forcing the first contingent of the enemy to cross the Marne again to seek refuge on the northern bank of the stream. In this last engagement the Germans suffered severe casualties and also left 100 men prisoners in the hands of the defenders of the line.

READY TO SMOKE NOW

FORMER VICE-PRESIDENT

Fairbanks is Claimed By Death—Suffered Breakdown Recently While on Speaking Tour for Third Liberty Loan—Was Twice Nominee for Vice President of United States.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 4—Charles Warren Fairbanks, former Vice-President of the United States, and former United States Senator for Indiana, died at his home here at 8:55 o'clock tonight.

Death was due to interstitial nephritis which has been a chronic ailment with him but not regarded as particularly serious until recently. All members of the former Vice-President's family, except Mayor Richard Fairbanks, who is in France, were at bedside.

Mr. Fairbanks became unconscious several days ago and did not regain consciousness up to the time of his death.

Mr. Fairbanks was sixty-six years of age and had been nominated twice on the Republican ticket for Vice-President of the United States. After his first nomination he was elected but was defeated in his second race in 1916.

The former Vice-President's health had been poor for several years. During the third Liberty Loan campaign, while on a speaking tour in behalf of the loan, he suffered a physical breakdown.

The classes of the Third Street M. E. Sunday School that are to have part in the Children's Day service are requested to be at the church Thursday afternoon right after school for practice. Mrs. Arthur Hicks will have charge of all preparations.

FILES APPLICATION FOR Y. M. C. A. WORK

Mr. E. E. Clark, proprietor of the Kentucky Repair Shop, has filed application with the government for a place in the Y. M. C. A. work and it goes without saying that he will succeed in his new field of work. Mr. Clark is an enthusiastic member of the Third Street M. E. Church and will be greatly missed by the congregation. Mr. Clark has been very prominent in Boy Scout work and the Epworth League and his Y. M. C. A. work will only open wider fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mathews of Winchester are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine nine-pound girl at the home of Mrs. Mathews' mother, Mrs. Belle Ennis of the Fifth Ward. Mrs. Mathews will be remembered as Miss Belle Ennis of this city and the little daughter has been christened Nora Belle.

Red Cross Workers Solve in One Minute the Mystery of the Stony Hearted
Mrs. Britt.

By MAXIMILIAN FOSTER
Of the Vigilantes.

A diamond is not the hardest thing in the world. A diamond will cut glass and bore through case hardened, tempered chrome steel, but glass and steel—the diamond itself too—are soft compared to some things. The hardest thing in the world is a hard woman.

Mrs. Britt was such a woman. I have seen hard women in my time, but never one who was harder. She smiled seldom, and when she smiled it was like the glitter of ice. She spoke infrequently, and when she spoke her speech was the tinkle of hail on slate roofing. She did not look as if she had ever wept in her life.

Every morning Mrs. Britt appeared at the Red Cross auxiliary in upper Broadway. She was the first to arrive in the morning, the last to leave at night. No one knew much about her, though. She was not the sort that make confidences. But that she was a worker—a hard worker—no one would dispute. Efficiency, as you'd suppose, was a trait of Mrs. Britt's.

Are Efficient Women Hard?

Efficiency—dreadful word that! How often efficient women are hard! How often efficient woman are hard! She was both, Mrs. Britt. The moment she came in at the door she had her hat and jacket off. The next instant she was at her place, her mouth set, grim, austere and hard—hard at work. Probably she did her work only from a sense of duty. Hard women always profess that trait. Duty, duty! But, then, few women are as hard as Mrs. Britt.

In contrast to her was Mrs. Farlow. She was soft and womanly and gentle—the exact opposite. She was not very efficient, of course, though she tried. Day after day Mrs. Farlow sat at the work table, her mouth quivering, smiling wistfully, the tears starting in her eyes. The bandages that came from her were often soiled and rumpled, poorly sewn, too, by her poor little trembling fingers. It was a wonder she could even see to sew at all. Again and again what she turned in had to be thrown away.

But no one reprimanded her. No one even let fall a hint that she was more of a burden than a help. The hearts of all those women ached with womanly pity for the poor, stricken mother. Once in awhile, though, in her corner at the back of the room Mrs. Britt would turn around and throw a glance at her. The glance was as hard as rocks—harder, in fact.

Mrs. Farlow had a son in the Rainbow division. The son was the oldest of her four children, and until he went away the little mother had been the happiest woman in the world. Now any day he might be ordered off to France.

His picture was in the locker she wore. Every half hour she would stop her work to look at it. Sometimes, her face wistful, she would show it to the other workers, voicing the anguish that with every waking breath she drew twanged hollowly in her mother's heart.

One afternoon Mrs. Farlow's oldest daughter came hurrying in. Her face was white. She had just learned that the Rainbow division had been ordered overseas.

Mrs. Farlow rose, her face tragic. One glance she gave about her, then she collapsed, sinking to the floor. In her fall she overturned a huge pile of antiseptic gauze just torn into squares for triangulars No. 13.

The room instantly was in confusion. Instantly every one sprang to the mother's aid—that is, every one but Mrs. Britt. She rose and rescued the bandages under foot. Then, her face hard as nails, grimly Mrs. Britt went back to her work. When Mrs. Farlow, still stricken, was led away to her car outside the drug figure in the corner was plugging away as mechanically and methodically as ever. The one glance she threw over her shoulder at the weeping woman was almost contemptuous.

A hard woman, Mrs. Britt; a heartless one, too, it was agreed.

For days nothing was seen at the auxiliary of Mrs. Farlow. It was understood that in her grief and apprehension she was ill in bed. Then one afternoon, pallid and quivering, she came in at the door. She smiled wistfully when the others gathered about her. "Let me work," she appealed plaintively. "Work may help me not to think."

Her Bandages Worthless.

She took a bandage and tried to sew. She made poor work of it, however. Then her head sank on her breast and the bandage slipped from her hands. "I can't—oh, I can't!" she wept.

Once more she was led away. The same thing happened three or four days later. A week later the mother wandered in again. By now the first of the troops were in the trenches, and her pale, transparent face was like a wraith's. She took a bandage; she tried to sew, and for a third time Mrs. Farlow gave in.

"Oh, my boy, my boy!" she wailed. The next instant a face was thrust into hers. The face was Mrs. Britt's, and the hard, bony visage was quivering with ill concealed anger and contempt.

"Sit down! Stop it!" said Mrs. Britt. With one hand she thrust Mrs.

OUR GIGANTIC ARMY

(Scientific American)

One year ago the strength of the American army was 212,034; today it is 1,659,725. Our population is conceded to be 100,000,000 for purposes of discussion. So in spite of the heavy increase which we have scored for our armies, we have put but 1.6 per cent of our numbers in uniform.

Ret we talk of supreme efforts in terms of a "gigantic" army of 5,000,000 men! May we not well pause to realize that before we shall have equaled the performance of the 13 original colonies we shall have increased this figure by half, that before we shall have put ourselves on a par with the beaten Confederacy we shall have doubled it? May we not give a thought to the fact that in order to put forth an effort duplicating that of the North, we must raise an army of 13,500,000 men!

It is absurd to look with complacency upon the insignificant military aid which the average American has in his mind when he contemplates our share in the great war. There are plenty of people now living who fought in the Civil War; plenty more who lived through it. If we would but remind ourselves that before we shall have equaled the achievement of their generation, we must still put 11,500,000 troops in the field, perhaps we should look with less complacency upon what we have done, and with less misgivings upon the raising of the next million, or the millions after that.

DR. MACFARLAND GOES TO FRANCE

Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, general secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, will sail for France early in June. Dr. Macfarland goes directly to the French Protestant Churches in response to their invitation transmitted through the French High Commission. He has been active in organizing the French Protestant Churches for a co-operative plan of work similar to that of the Federal Council of the Churches in America.

Arrangements have been completed for Dr. Macfarland to meet and confer with President Poincaré and Gen. Foch. Most of that section of France now known as the "battle zone" is in the district of French Protestantism.

GOOD CAUSE FOR ALARM

These Figures Will Make Maysville People Take Notice.

Deaths from kidney disease have increased 72% in twenty years. People overdo nowadays in so many ways that the constant filtering of poisoned blood weakens the kidneys. Beware of fatal Bright's disease. When backache or urinary ills suggest weak kidneys, use Doan's Kidney Pills, live carefully, take things easy and avoid heavy eating. Doan's Kidney Pills command confidence, for no other kidney remedy is so widely used or so generally successful. Home endorsement is the best proof of merit. Read this Maysville resident's story: Miss Dora Edgington, Wood St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and from the results received, I have every reason to recommend them. At times my kidneys have become weak and have been irregular in action. My back has ached, too, and has been very weak and lame across my kidneys. When I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for this trouble, they have never failed to relieve the complaint in a short time. I gladly advise anyone to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Chanslor's Drug Store, if troubled in that way."

Miss Edgington is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Miss Edgington had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c all stores. ### MOTHERS

It is terribly hard, you mothers, to be asked to give up that son of yours who escaped the perils of childhood and youth as a possible sacrifice upon the altar of war. Yet never in the history of the world were mothers called upon to give their sons to a more worthy cause than now presents itself. As a Christian mother you will not ignore the President's call upon you. See that your boy registers June 5. He positively MUST register if he has reached 21 since June 5 last.

The U. S. Food Administration considers poultry and eggs such important foods that effective June 1, 1918, it will require all persons, storekeepers, dealers, etc., not now under license who buy and sell eggs and poultry to take out a license under the U. S. Food Administration law. This does not refer to farmers or consumers, nor to retailers unless they sell to others than consumers.

Application should be made immediately to the License Division, Law Department, U. S. Food Administration, Washington, D. C., asking for a license to buy and sell poultry and eggs.

Pending receipt of license all those mentioned above shall be subject to the rules and regulations the same as if license has been received.

Regulations Governing the Purchase of Eggs in Kentucky

All licenses shall, between the dates of June 1, 1918, and January 15, 1919, be governed by the following rules:

(a) Purchase eggs only on a candle basis and make no payment either in cash or merchandise, for those that are unfit for food.

(b) A statement shall be given each customer from whom eggs are purchased showing the number of good, damaged and bad eggs in each lot.

(c) A copy of each statement shall be kept for the duration of each candling season and be subject to examination by the U. S. Government, State, County and Municipal Food Inspector.

(d) All lots of eggs greater than 30 dozen, shall be packed in good strong standard egg cases and fillers, made in accordance with railroad specifications, carefully protected to prevent breakage. Cracked eggs shall be packed in separate cases from those with sound shells.

(e) Each case of eggs shall contain on the top layer a signed candling certificate printed according to the copy sent herewith.

(f) Eggs shall be kept during hot weather in as cool a place as possible away from dust and flies, and marketed frequently.

(g) No licensee may buy upon another licensee's candling certificate unless the eggs be in car lots or more. After this year this candling season shall extend from May 10th to January 15th.

IRVIN S. COBB

With the Colt-Alber Chautauqua Will Delight Maysville People—He Will Tell of His Experiences in the Flanders.

To intimate that any American doesn't know Irvin S. Cobb and hasn't read and chuckled over his Judge Priest stories his intimate essays on the human anatomy and his never-to-be-forgotten "speaking of operations" is to reflect upon that American's patriotism. For "Old Irv Cobb" as he is affectionately known down New York way, is a national institution like pumpkin pie, Fourth of July and baseball. Now the Chautauqua is to perform a real service to folks in this community by permitting everybody to hear Mr. Cobb in person, with the biggest subject he has ever written or talked about, "My Recent Experience on the Fighting Front in France and Flanders."

Mr. Cobb is coming to the Chautauqua fresh from a trip to the western front, where he has been reporting the latest developments of the war for the Saturday Evening Post. It will be recalled that his articles on the events in Belgium, following the outbreak of hostilities evoked the widest interest of any articles written at that time and established him as the greatest war reporter of the present day.

Irvin S. Cobb is today the keenest observer now writing in America. He has the surest insight and the quickest perception of salient characteristics of any American writer since Mark Twain. He will give Chautauquas the tragedy of war, but it is impossible for Cobb to hide his humor which is effervescent and unending and his story will be splashed with laughs.

CLASS OF 1918

Began Registering This Morning at the Local Draft Board's Office—
Will Be on Duty Until 9
Tonight.

Maysville's young men who have become of military age since June 5, 1917, will go to the Postoffice Building today to register in compliance with the selective service regulations and the proclamation of the President.

Today's registration, while not be on an elaborate scale as that of a year ago when all young men between the ages of 21 and 30, both inclusive went to the polls to be registered for military service.

It is significant that while only a year has elapsed nearly all young men who are single and without dependents who registered at that time have gone to war or will have gone ere another month passes.

The work of registering all of the young men will take place in the local Draft Board office in the Postoffice Building.

The regulations are very strict. Those who fail to comply with the law will be subject to one year's imprisonment, and those who are sick must send a representative to the registrars and notify them of the fact. They will send a registrar to him.

It is estimated that the registration today will be about 10 per cent of the number registered last June, which would be about 140.

The authorities request anyone knowing of a young man who is purposely attempting to evade the law to notify them. The young man will be compelled to register at once and this save himself from further punishment. However, if he does not register today, he will not only be compelled to register but will also be sent to the nearest army barracks where he will be disciplined.
